

Tobias Zieseimer

Head of Product Lifecycle Management
Switching
Siemens Energy

Tobias Zieseimer has been functioning in his role as Head of Product Lifecycle Manager-Switching since Siemens Energy's carve-out in October 2019. After studying Industrial Engineering in Berlin, he joined the Siemens family in 2008 as a service engineer and followed on to work as a Senior Technical Consultant High Voltage. He then became a Product Lifecycle Manager and focused further on this topic as Product Manager. Currently, Tobias is leading the Product Lifecycle Management department for our switching equipment in the area of switchgear.
