

Uwe Weigt

Project Manager Digital Substation
Siemens Energy

Booth expert

Electrical Engineer Uwe Weigt has been working nearly a decade in research and development of digital substations. In combination with an overall experience of more than 20 years in commissioning, engineering and development of high voltage substations he will be on your disposal for everything related to AIS/GIS substations.