

Martin Stoessl

Customer Innovation Manager
Power Transformers
Siemens Energy Austria

Speaker

Martin Stoessl is customer innovation manager with over three decades of experience in the transformer business. Among other things, he was responsible for technical design calculation and strategic contracts in the Near East, worked as business improvement director for Siemens Transformers worldwide and also managed the global technology center.